THE BOOK

INDEPENDENCE • FRIENDS • MEMORIES • FREEDOM • LIFE
COMPETITION • CARING • EDUCATION • SERVICE

Every year here at Elizabethtown College, we find ourselves learning. Our knowledge comes from not only in class, but also each time we interact with each other. It comes when we are pushed just that little bit further to discover something new about ourselves and who we are becoming. Our roommates and friends become our family. Our administrators and faculty become our mentors and guides. Those special moments we experience as we score the winning goal, dance our hearts out in Leffler, take charge of a community service program, and a dozen other times when we realize just how good life is, are more than just moments lived, they are memories never to be forgotten.

This year's Conestogan was produced in the hopes that ten to twenty years from now, when your college years are a thing of the past, you can open up your yearbook and reflect upon just how special your time spent at Elizabethtown was. Elizabethtown College is more than just a beautiful institution for higher education. For a brief part of our lives, it is our home.

MEMORIALS

Brandee M. Simpson
October 2, 1983 - July 25, 2003

I'm glad you're in my dash...
I read of a man who stood to speak
At the funeral of a friend,
He referred to the dates on her tombstone
From beginning...to the end.

He noted that first came her date of birth
And spoke the following date with tears,
But he said what mattered most of all,
Was the "Dash" between those years.

For that dash represents all the time
That she spent alive on earth
And now only those who loved her
Know what that little line is worth,
For it matters not, how much we own;
The cars, the house, the cash,
What matters is how we live and love
And how we spend our dash.

So think about this long and hard
Are there things you'd like to change?
For you never know how much time is left,
That can still be arranged.

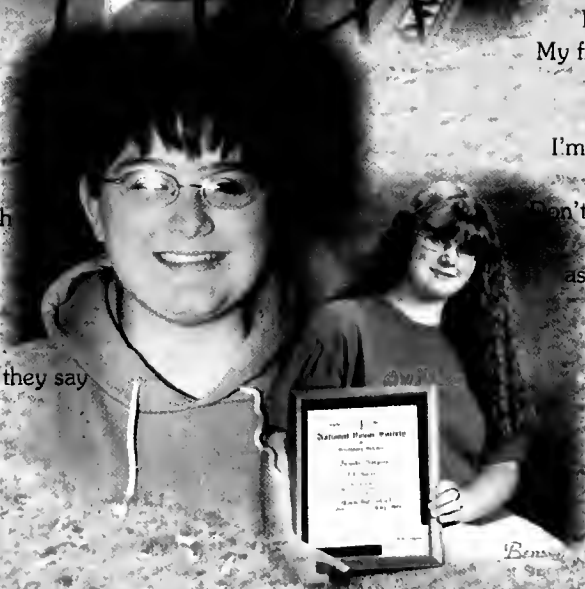

If we could just slow down enough
To consider what's true and real,
And always try to understand
The way other people feel.

And be less quick to anger,
And show appreciation more
And love the people in our lives
Like we've never loved before.

If we treat each other with respect
And more often wear a smile,
Remembering that this special dash
Might only last a little while.

So when your eulogy's being read
With your life's actions to rehash...
Would you be proud of the things they say
About how you spent your dash?

"Funeral"

There are a lot of people here
Kids from school, I hardly know
Why am I here, who died?
I am bewildered, no one will answer me
I slowly make my way to the coffin to see
I am expecting the worst, scared to look
How can this be? Is this a joke?
The person in the coffin, it's me
I can see the pain in my mother's eyes
My friends all lay yellow roses on my chest
This isn't happening, it can't be
I'm going to college in the fall,
I'm going to be a lawyer, not now though
They close the coffin and walk away.
Don't leave me I cry out, but no one knows
I stand there and watch
as they lower the coffin into the ground, and I cry
This can't be I'm sorry!

MEMORIALS

Nicole M. Prosseda

November 22, 1983 - November 3, 2005

Sitting still as stone watching - watching
People walking by you wondering why
No one ever stops to talk or thinks about it - if they ever did
What if God shuffled by?

One day we might see
Doing not a thing
Breathing just to breathe
We might find some reason

But rushing around seems what's wrong with the world
Don't lose the dreams inside your head
They'll only be there till you're dead
Dream

Lying on the roof counting
The stars that fill the sky I wonder if Someone in the heavens looking back down on me - I'll never know
So much space to believe

Funny when you're small
The moon follows the car
There's no one but you see -
Hey, the moon is chasing me

I worried if I looked away she'd be gone
Don't lose the dreams inside your head
They'll only be there till you're dead
Dream

Walking through the wood
No cares in the world
The world has come to play
She's all mine just for a day

There's not a moment to lose in the game
Don't let the troubles in your head
Steal too much time you'll soon be dead
So play

All fall down
It won't be so long now
Out of the darkness comes light like a flash
You think you can you think you can
Sometimes that is the problem
Dream little darling dream.

Spinning on the wind
The leaf fell from the limb

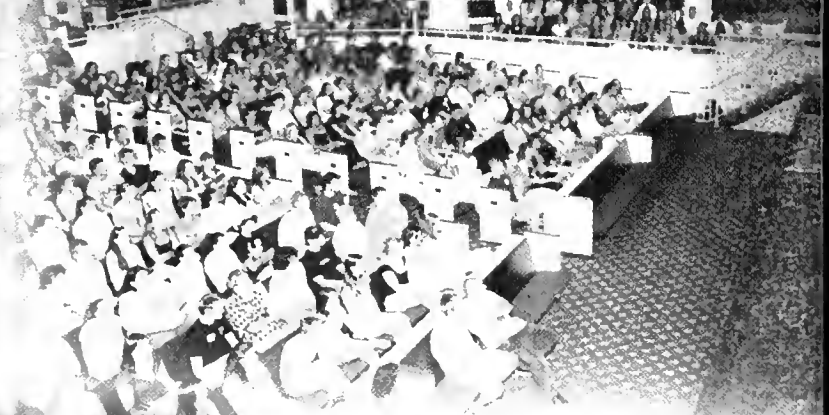

But everyday should be a good day to die
Oh all fall down
It won't be too long now
Every fire dies
I find it hard to explain how I got here
I think I can I think I can
Then again I will falter
Dream little darling dream

Spinning on the wind

On September 15, 2005, Elizabethtown College reached an important milestone as it broke ground on the James B. Hoover Center for Business – a facility that will serve as a catalyst for the institution's advancement in the coming decades. The state-of-the-art facility will be the first classroom building constructed at the College in more than three decades. The Hoover Center is expected to be ready for classes by fall 2006.

The Hoover Center will be the new home of the College's perennially strong business program. The Hoover Center for Business – with its state-of-the-art classrooms – will provide a dynamic learning environment in which these students will gain the experience needed to handle real-world business issues with expertise and integrity. And, this building will house the new Center for Entrepreneurial Success, which will prepare students to identify business opportunities, capitalize on them, and expand businesses nationally and internationally.

The end of August marks the time when students pack up all their belongings and move onto campus, perhaps for the first time. First year students arrived only days before returning students but they were right at home already. Orientation helped these recent graduates have a smooth transition into the new and exciting life of Elizabethtown College. They arrived early on August 25th, moved into their dorm rooms, and met their roommates. Orientation began with Convocation, a ceremony welcoming the new first year students to the college. During the ceremony, this years College Scholars set an example for the first year students to achieve. Within the next few days these Elizabethtown newcomers got to know one another and the campus.

Below: Students came equipped with a few things to make their standard dorm bed a little more comfortable.

The theme of this year's Homecoming Weekend was "Great Inventions" and started off with the Parade through E-town on Saturday morning. The sunny day then continued into Brinser field for the Annual Midway Fair, where t-shirts, mugs, food and other merchandise were sold by clubs, organizations and outside vendors.

There were multiple sports games throughout the afternoon. During the Men's Soccer game, the homecoming court was presented and the King and Queen were crowned, which were Dave Hamel & Jess Kelley. Also the brand new Blue Jay mascot was debuted!

Later that evening, comedian Richard Lewis, one of Comedy Central's top 50 stand-up comedians of all time, came to perform to a packed audience in Leffler Chapel and students later enjoyed a dance in the Event space. To wrap up the weekend, Phalanx performed their annual Homecoming show on Sunday afternoon. It was a wonderful weekend for current students, parents, and Alumni!

The goal of Into the Streets is to introduce more college students to thoughtful community service and to provide a learning experience that will sharpen leadership skills and challenge students to volunteer on a regular basis.

Into the Streets is a collaborative effort that has involved as many as 650 Elizabethtown College students, staff, administration, and alumni each year, in more than 55 activities in the Elizabethtown area community. Projects involved activities with youth, senior citizens, the environment, and social issues. Students sign up to participate through classes, clubs, SDLCs (theme learning communities), honor societies, and/or as individuals.

Elizabethtown College celebrated its 12th Into the Streets on October 22, 2005. This year was the first year that the Board of Trustees and President Long were instrumental in "sending" us off into the community and the first year for two alumni projects. All participants felt validated and inspired by the appreciation expressed by the Trustees and President Long. Although our sunshine was of the liquid variety, all projects were completed and Elizabethtown College's motto, "Educate for Service", was well exemplified.

Elizabethtown College's fall theatre production featured "a heartwarming and witty plot full of mistaken identities, compulsive infatuations and bittersweet conspiracy," according to director and Associate Professor of Theatre Michael Severeid.

"The play commences with a seemingly fatal shipwreck, but soon blossoms into a charming story that challenges our present day perceptions of love and relationships," Severeid said. Twenty-six Elizabethtown students were involved in the production and performance of the play, and a recorder ensemble of 13 students performed for the first time during the production. The ensemble, Early MUSIC ENSEMBLE, was directed by Assistant Professor of Music Victoria...

"Twelfth Night" is set in the early 1600s, during the reign of James I and Charles I, and the production featured a period-appropriate set design and costumes, and a recording of the play's music and songs, characteristic of the period.

Each year Elizabethtown College celebrates Thanksgiving with a traditional dinner prepared by Dining Services. Several seating time choices are offered to accommodate all students. Tables are reserved ahead of time, with groups of friends signing up to share a special meal together. Faculty, administration, alumni and staff join together at the Thanksgiving Dinner to serve the students the home-cooked meal. Volunteers across campus, from the College President to the Professors, wear their aprons and carry their trays, proudly adding to the festive atmosphere. The college workers are paired with a partner to cater to each table of students, which includes serving the turkey dinners and clearing the tables. A typical Thanksgiving meal consists of turkey and all the fixings, along with a slice of pumpkin pie. In preparation for the Thanksgiving Dinner, Dining Services will prepare over 165 whole turkeys, 190 pounds of cut corn, and 110 pumpkin pies, just to name a few items.

This traditional meal started nearly thirty years ago. In previous years an outstanding number of students have attended, making this one of the largest and most successful college gatherings. Many of the students come to dinner all dressed up and prepared to have a great time. The students can sit back, relax, and enjoy the sight of their professors waiting on them.

Thanksgiving is a time for us to reflect and give thanks to those who are most important to us. It is also a time to enjoy the good company, good times and good food. Students get together to enjoy a home-cooked meal and to celebrate the holiday with their college family.

Elizabethtown College presented 11 plays during its annual One Act Festival, which was held in Tempest Theatre, in the BSC. The festival, which takes place twice a year, features one-act plays that are directed and performed by students. Associate Professor of Theatre Michael Sevareid described the festival as a way “for the students to feel empowered make decisions about their own theatre experiences and act as directors and producers of dramatic material.” Plays to be presented include “I Am” by Brian Dykstra, directed by Megan Rees; “Finding the Love of Your Life” by Jules Tasca, directed by Tyler Evensen; “Naomi in the Living Room” by Christopher Durang, directed by Amanda Brunish; “The Battle of Bull Run Always Makes Me Cry” by Carole Read, directed by Devon Fahy; “The Good Doctor” by Neil Simon, directed by Andrew Mannion; “Arabian Nights” by David Ives, directed by Christine Emerick; “Can this Marriage Be Saved” by Rich Orloff, directed by Danielle Shantz; “The Gingerbread Lady” by Neil Simon, directed by Julie Strickland; “Doing a Good One for the Red Man” by Mark Medoff, directed by Michael Gephart; “Double Take,” directed by Stephanie Sevelovitz ; and “Today’s Special,” directed by Lisa Sweny.

Elizabethtown College is proud of this event which brings student's young family members to campus. Lil' Sibs Weekend is the Elizabethtown College tradition of being with the little siblings, cousins, or close friends of the family to the college for a fun-filled, memory making weekend.

This year's theme was "Race into E-town". It focused on activities such as the movie Herbie: Fully Loaded. The young participants could make their own race cars and garages. The event also introduced the very first E-town 500!! There were over 150 lil' sibs registered for the weekend!! This event is sponsored by the Office of Student Activities.

This year's Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Day theme was "In The Spirit of Community." This year's celebration consisted of the first Annual Dr. King Student Fellow essay contest, two interactive lectures, a Town Hall Meeting on Race, a candlelight re-enactment march and a gospel extravaganza. The Dr. King Committee was co-chaired by Rachel Jones Williams '06 – president of Noir, the Black Student Society of Elizabethtown College, Dr. David Brown – Associate Professor of History, and James Felton – Director of Multicultural Affairs.

This year was the first year for the Dr. King Student Fellow Award. The first place winner was Meghan Allen '08, the second place winner was Shaleen Spulic '09 and third prize went to Tamara Burch '08. The winners were awarded $500, $250 and $100 in books (respectively) from the school store.

Lectures on different aspects of the Civil Rights Movement were presented by Dr. Sylvester Williams of the Business Department and Professor David Donovan of the Communications Department. The Town Hall Meeting which is an open forum for conversation was attended by students, faculty, staff and administration. The day ended with a candlelight march from the BSC to Leffler Chapel for the Gospel Extravaganza, which featured various performers from surrounding communities.

From nominations to elections to the actual performance, the "male beauty pageant," also known as Mr. E-Town, held here at Elizabethtown since 2001, has truly become a tradition. A total of eight men are involved in the competition, Mr. Apartments, Mr. Brinser, Mr. Founders, Mr. Off-Campus, Mr. Ober, Mr. Royer, Mr. SDLC, and Mr. Quads. For approximately ten weeks, they worked together to learn the group dance to "It's Raining Men" and to prepare their own personal parts of the competition. Overall, the competition consists of three areas: a group dance, an individual lip sync, and a personal style with question and answer. As we saw this year, the question that everyone always asked was, "Who will 'Rain' as King?"

Saturday, April 8, 2006, was a night to remember for many Elizabethtown College juniors and seniors. Students from the college arrived dressed in their best for one of the timeless moments of their lives, the annual Junior-Senior Formal.

This annual event was held at the Radisson of Harrisburg. The Student Senate representatives of the class of 2007 worked diligently throughout the year to successfully plan this event, which was titled "Fire and Ice." The theme was carried throughout the ballroom with a center piece that included faux ice, blue lights, and a red candle. This formal event was attended by over 500 students who enjoyed a three course dinner followed by several hours on the dance floor as the DJ played the most recent hits until late into the night. Students had the opportunity to get rooms at the hotel and many chose to spend the night.

Elizabethtown College's spring theatre production, "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum," featured the work of some of E-town's talented students. "As director, I tend to try to work with student designers, supervising them from a design standpoint," Shari Taylor said. "That's what makes our program at Elizabethtown distinctive. Students get to try their hand at things for which they have a certain level of skill and expertise."

Sophomore Andrew Mannion, designed the set for the production. Junior Becky Prough served as lighting designer; senior Sarah Nurnberger was costume mistress; and props were handled by senior Rachel Shaw, Ohio. In addition, senior Ashley Kerns choreographed; senior Mila Henry was rehearsal pianist; and stage managers were first-year students Graham Stokes and sophomore Katie Hauser.

Above: Friends happily paired off in twos for a few rounds of horseshoes that were set up for the occasion.

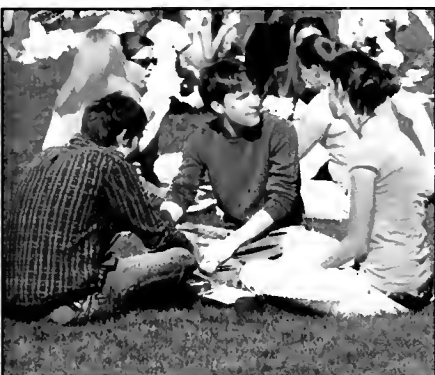

In April, TGIS weekend, or "Thank God It's Spring", celebrates the arrival of spring. The weekend includes outdoor activities and games, a foam dance, and musical performances.

This year the weekend was kicked off on Thursday with "Recycled Percussion" performing on Brinser Field. Third Eye Blind, with opener Raining Jane, played Thompson Gym on Friday. Saturday afternoon, students enjoyed big chair photos, a Monkey Motion Quad Pod, volleyball, horseshoes, bocci ball, and food. Later that night, E-town students danced the night away at a foam dance party and ate pizza on Brinser field.

Below: Joel Hoffman and Pat MacAdams scan Brinser field for fellow friends and good times.

Middle: Others were also enjoying some quality time with friends.

Below: Kara Osborn was among many that took advantage off all the "carnival food," that dining service had to offer. Besides hot dogs there was also snow cones, funnel cake, fried vegetables, and cotton candy, to name a few.

MEN'S CROSS COUNTRY

Elizabethtown College men's cross country team has the opportunity in 2005 to do something no other program in the history of the College has done: win it's seventh consecutive conference title. The Blue Jays' current streak of six consecutive Middle Atlantic Conference championships from 1999 to 2004 is tied with the College record of six MAC titles for the men's soccer team from 1962 to 1967. Also, Elizabethtown will be trying to qualify as a team for the NCAA Division III for the fifth time in the last seven years. In 2004, the Blue Jays finished 15th in the nation, and second in the Mideast Region.

WOMEN'S CROSS COUNTRY

Elizabethtown College enters the 2005 season off the heels of winning it's first Middle Atlantic Conference title and making it's first NCAA Division III Championship meet appearance as a team. They finished 19th in the country in the process, in 2004. The Blue Jays' goal for this season will be to maintain the level of success it recently achieved, defending it's conference title and remaining one of the Mideast Region's top teams.

WOMEN'S FIELD HOCKEY

Elizabethtown College's field hockey team has been working incredibly hard. "They came in much better physical condition; they were in much better shape than last year," said head coach Sharon Sweger. Combine that with the fact that the team is "more familiar with the system," according to Sweger, Elizabethtown could be improved this year. Furthermore, on a roster that currently has 24 players, ten of them are first year students. "As a group, the first years will be contributing," said Sweger. "The returning players, in turn, "have really set a good example with conditioning," said Sweger.

MEN'S GOLF

The 2005 fall golf campaign resulted in a 32-win, 32-loss record in tournament play. The highlight of the season was a 2nd place finish at the Susquehanna Tournament held at Edgewood-in-the-Pines where the team shot a season low score of 316. Junior Bob Pyrz led the way for the Blue Jays with a 78.6 stroke average while firing a low round of 75. The team is very young and looks to make some noise in the 2006 spring season.

MEN'S SOCCER

Elizabethtown College men's soccer team enters the 2005 season as the defending champion of the Commonwealth Conference, a position which, provided all the pieces fit together well, it has a decent chance of defending. The Blue Jays will also be going for their 54th consecutive season with a .500-or-better record in 2005. Elizabethtown returns 17 out of its 30 players who appeared last year, when the Blue Jays advanced to the second round of the NCAA Division III tournament after knocking off the 2003 national runner-up. As always, Elizabethtown's goal will be to play exciting, attractive – but ultimately winning – soccer.

WOMEN'S SOCCER

Elizabethtown College head coach Barry Dohner '83 is looking at the 2005 season as a new beginning for the team. This season will see quite a few new faces, both on the field and on the sidelines. Not only are there 11 first-year students -- the Blue Jays also have a new assistant coach in Herb Fenstermacher '69, who will join Dohner, George Nimo and Henrik Madsen on the sidelines. There is going to be a big group of first-year students. They changed tradition a bit, and it has worked very well. They ran the preseason differently and it let the players bond together.

WOMEN'S TENNIS

The Blue Jays' non-conference schedule will be considerably more difficult this year. "Last year," said head coach Matt Helsel, "we had the gaudy record, but we didn't really go anywhere," referring to the Blue Jays' omission from the NCAA Division III tournament field in May 2005 and the team's top national ranking of 32nd. In the future, such a circumstance will not be possible, as the winner of the Commonwealth Conference title will receive an automatic NCAA Division III tournament bid beginning in 2006-07. With the automatic bid one year away, however, the Blue Jays will play perhaps their most difficult schedule ever with an eye toward seeing where they stand on the national level before the automatic berth becomes available.

WOMEN'S VOLLEYBALL

Elizabethtown College enters the 2005 season with six of the seven starters and 12 of the 14 members of a 2004 team that went 24-9 overall. The Blue Jays have been ranked second in the pre-season Commonwealth Conference coaches' poll, the team's highest ranking since the poll was begun several years ago. "We felt being picked second was definitely an honor," said Elizabethtown's head coach Randall Kreider, "and we'll work hard to live up to that ranking."

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

The 2005 06 season will witness a significant changing of the guard for the Elizabethtown College women's basketball team. This year's team has just two seniors, no juniors, four sophomores and seven first year students, making the 2005 06 Blue Jays an exceptionally young squad that has the opportunity to set a strongly positive tone for the next several years. Among the returning starters are the two seniors and one of the sophomores. Senior co-captains Cristin Braun and Dana Voit both return. The other returning starter is sophomore forward Amanda Reid.

MEN'S SWIMMING

Elizabethtown brings to the pool a squad of 11 swimmers and, among them, nine returning competitors from last year's team that finished a solid sixth place out of 10 teams in the Middle Atlantic Conference Championships. The nine swimmers who competed last year are the most the Blue Jays have returning since the 1994-95 season, and the last time Etown had more swimmers on its men's roster was in the 1996-97 season. Among the nine returning swimmers are six who received Second Team All-Middle Atlantic Conference honors by placing between fourth and sixth in their respective events in 2005.

MEN'S WRESTLING

After improving to sixth in the Middle Atlantic Conference last year, the Blue Jays are expecting their improvement to continue further. "We have a nice squad," said head coach Eric Walker, who earned MAC Coach of the Year honors in his second season at Etown's helm last year; "it isn't a large squad, but we'll be a lot more competitive," he continued. Despite a struggle in 2004-05, the wrestlers are ready to give it their all once again and improve. Now, the Blue Jays have every weight covered except for 184 pounds, and they have some depth at most of the weights.

MEN'S BASEBALL

After losing eight seniors from its 2005 team to graduation, Elizabethtown brings a markedly younger team to the field in 2006 than it possessed in recent years. However, this will not necessarily mean a drop-off in performance. Elizabethtown has become a fixture in the conference playoffs in recent years, having made the postseason in each of the last seven consecutive seasons. The combination of the players Etown has are a very talented class of first-year students, meaning that the Blue Jays could once again be in the playoff hunt and in pursuit of their first conference championship since 2001.

MEN'S LACROSSE

This spring is a time of renewal for the men's lacrosse team at Elizabethtown College. Head coach Terry Corcoran, a two-time NCAA Division III Coach of the Year, is in his first year at Elizabethtown. As for the team itself, the program graduated its first class of seniors, sixteen in all, at the end of the 2005 season, and as a result Etown has just 12 members that played for the Blue Jays in previous seasons. The newcomers outnumber the returning players by one, with nine first-year students and four new sophomores. The result, Corcoran said, is that "every time out is going to be a learning experience."

WOMEN'S LACROSSE

2006 marks in many ways a new beginning for Elizabethtown College's women's lacrosse program. After playing its first season in 2002, the team's first senior class graduated at the end of 2005. As a result, Elizabethtown has lost 14 players from last year, and 11 of the 19 players on the 2006 team are first-year students. Second-year head coach Mike Faith has emphasized bringing this group together and building the inexperienced team's work ethic throughout the fall and the spring pre-season, and he likes what he has seen thus far.

MEN'S TENNIS

Elizabethtown enters the 2006 season as the defending Commonwealth Conference champion. Only three players return from the 2005 team, and only one of them played in any singles last year. The Blue Jays have graduated three seniors and have seen the departure of three foreign students from the 2005 squad — that team's entire top six for the majority of the season. Elizabethtown has added five newcomers. As is usual for the Blue Jays' schedule, the team will undergo a rough first few matches in Hilton Head, SC over Spring Break while playing against some very strong out of region competition.

MEN'S TRACK & FIELD

Elizabethtown College enters the 2006 track & field season looking to stretch its streak of Middle Atlantic Conference Indoor championships to four in a row, as well as regain the MAC Outdoor title and complete the Blue Jays' second "triple crown", having last completed the sweep in 2003-04. The Blue Jays are also looking to improve upon last year's team finish of 28th at the NCAA Division III Outdoor Championships. Etown has finished as high as sixth in the nation at the 2004 NCAA Division III Outdoor Championships.

WOMEN'S TRACK & FIELD

In a short span of time, Elizabethtown College has built its program from scratch to become one of the best in the Middle Atlantic Conference. The Blue Jays enter the 2006 season, their seventh as a varsity program, looking to improve upon their fourth place finishes in the Middle Atlantic Conference Indoor and Outdoor Championships in 2005, as well as build upon their 55th place finish at the NCAA Division III Outdoor Championships last year. Elizabethtown has finished as high as 13th in the nation at the 2004 NCAA Division III Indoor Championships.

SENIOR WEEK AND GRADUATION

• • • Saying Goodbye

Senior Week

One last chance to create memories. One last chance to celebrate the place they've called home, Elizabethtown College. One last chance to remember times past, with those who know exactly what you mean. One last chance to say good bye.

Senior week offered the class of 2006 one last chance to embrace all that is wonderful about E-Town college.

Alumni Relations organized a pig roast, awards, bacalaureate, senior toast, and so much more for the week before graduation. With so much going on, there was very little time to be sad about their years at Elizabethtown coming to an end.

Below: Bacalaureate, held in Leffler Chapel, was a great time for students to share their experiences at E-Town with family and friends. The candlelit ceremony added a special ambiance to the service.

Right: Seniors gathered together to reminisce on times past and enjoy a meal catered by dining services.

Below: As traditions go, the Elizabethtown College Senior Pig Roast is one of the most admired, and looked forward to. Amidst eating all of the good food, seniors below take time to pose for a few pictures with friends.

Above: After Baccalaureate, seniors and their families were able to enjoy Reflections, set up by Lake Placida.

Mom, Dad, Grandma, Grandpa and Uncle Bennet*

Paul Sahd

To Our Son, Paul Sahd,

Since you were a child;

Your smile brightened our lives

Your dreams stretched our imagination

Your love was a beacon for us all,

As you graduate from college and pursue your dreams,

Remember;

That god will always hold you in His hands

That your family will always stand behind you

And to share your talents with those around you.

We are so proud of who you were as a child and whom you have become as a man!

We love you,

Mom and Dad

Kathryn Rosenberger

You beat all the leading ladies from The Lady Eve to Veronica Mars. We love you. Mom, Dad, Katie, Don, Julie, Beth, and Cocoa

Alicia Collins

Alicia,

Memories of you from your first day of kindergarten through your four years of college will be never ending.

Your academic achievements have been top notch and as your college chapter ends, another chapter begins.

The future is extremely bright and we know you will continue to do well.

We are so very proud of you!

All our love,
Dad, Mom & Erin

Christina Giglio

To my Christina,

It seems like just yesterday that my little girl and I went grocery shopping together and walked down our favorite aisle (hint, hint) I can smell the aroma of coffee, then just four short years ago I thought you couldn't make me any prouder when you graduated high school. Now I am about to bust with pride again as my little girl has turned into a beautiful young lady graduating college.

Your dedication and stamina for the past four years both to academics and dance are something I'm sure you will carry with you throughout your adult life.

So as you continue on your journey in life enjoy each moment and know I will always be there for you.

Remember our song

“ain't no mountain high enough ain't no valley low enough ain't no river wide enough

To keep me from getting to you babe.”

This is your day peachy pie, you earned it!
Enjoy it and cherish it forever in your heart as much as I will.

I love you sweetheart.

Hugs and kisses,

Mommy

Look out world here comes Christina!

Jennifer Kline

We are very proud of you!

Congratulations!!!!

Love,
Nana, Mom, and Dad

COLOPHON

The Elizabethtown College Conestogan Yearbook of 2006 was an extremely difficult, and tedious production to put together, given last year's state of the book, in addition of all the associated troubles and tribulations. The board of editors of this book have resuscitated the book, its finances, and all other influential factors.

Steven D. Vernaci, Dena A. Schaffer, Jocelyne M. Horstmann, Jennifer E. Kline, and also Ryan W. Hofherr immensely improved on the book from previous productions, and are proud to display this memorable publication to the public, and the campus community as a whole.

This yearbook was designed with Adobe InDesign CS 2, and also Photoshop CS. Three Dell computer systems, two Nikon cameras, a Canon Rebel camera, and also an HP scanner were used in production. The book has a total of 192 full color pages, which were printed on #100 enamel. Exactly 400 copies were printed.

The Conestogan staff of 2005-2006 would like to extend a much deserved thank you to the following individuals: Ed Patrick, Jr., (Taylor Publishing Sales Representative), Robert Porter (Taylor Publishing Account Executive), Seana Litt (Taylor Publishing) for her direct assistance and help with the book, Mark Duff and Megan Thoman for their continued support and services at DaVor Photography, Ian Showalter (Sports Information Director), Lori Hixon (Director of College Relations), Benjamin Goodhart and Diana Lynn Horn (Business Office), Information and Technology Services, Mail Services, and any other specific individuals, or Elizabethtown departments that were unfortunately not included due to space constraints. Lastly, we would like to take a moment to thank Tamara L. Gillis, Associate Professor of Communications, Department Chair, and our yearbook advisor. Ultimately, Dr. Gillis has been there to provide confidence, support, and direction toward the publication of this book, and for its future.

The Conestogan office is located in the Brossman Commons Student Center in room #246. They can be reached via telephone at 717-361-1107, email at conestogan@etown.edu, or online at <http://www.etown.edu/conestogan>.
